

It doesn't take long for HR questions to come up when a workers' comp claim has been filed. That's why Approach is partnered with All Things HR to provide you access to HR professionals. It's a great resource for companies of all sizes, whether you need a second opinion or for an expert opinion because your company doesn't have its own HR department. Don't delay in using this valuable, complementary resource!

Common Services Provided by All Things HR

Proactive assistance to help you get best practices in place before a claim is filed

Advice on policies and procedures

Free, initial consultation and support included with your Approach retro participation

Sample forms and documents

Coordination with your Approach Retro Coordinator when claims are involved

Reduce your risk of fines, audits, and lawsuits

Referrals to additional HR support or attorneys for more complex situations

Training and educational support

Available for time sensitive matters like theft, assault or harassment

